INFORMATION REPORT OUNTRY Poland OUNTRO AGE CQUIRED Naval Officers' School in Oksyrre 1. Studests attending the haval Officers' School in Oksyrre receive extensive technical and mechanical training. Officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last times years thorough training in given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signale — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artificary — all phases. Narigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one vime taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustin. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Uksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same marker in 1951. In 1951 there was a committed to increase the same number in 1951. In 1951 there was a committed to increase the same number in 1951. In 1951 there was a committed to increase the same number in 1951. In 1951 there was a committed to increase the same number in 1951. In 1951 there was a committed to increase the same number in 1951. In 1951 there was a committed to increase the same number in 1951. In 1951 there was a committed to increase the same number in 1951. The seventh day is not aside for opports, games and mories. 1. CLASSIFICATION SECRET CLASSIFICATION SECRET CLASSIFICATION SECRET CLASSIFICATION SECRET		CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY	İ
NAVEL Officers' School in Oksylre 1. Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksylre receive extensive technical and mechanical training. Officers receive general military braining, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training in the following outlets: (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artillery — all phases. Newigation is not included in the nurriculum. It was at one wime taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustica. 2. Approximately 20 efficiency graduated from the Chaymer May Officers' School in 1950 and about the same marker in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the excellment at the school. This drive was limited, however, te the nersonnel in the Army and Navy. 3. Clas— at Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sparts, games and mortee. CLASSIFICATION SECRET	.  *	INFORMATION REPORT
NAVEL Officers' School in Oksylre 1. Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksylre receive extensive technical and mechanical training. Officers receive general military braining, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training in the following outlets: (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artillery — all phases. Newigation is not included in the nurriculum. It was at one wime taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustica. 2. Approximately 20 efficiency graduated from the Chaymer May Officers' School in 1950 and about the same marker in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the excellment at the school. This drive was limited, however, te the nersonnel in the Army and Navy. 3. Clas— at Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sparts, games and mortee. CLASSIFICATION SECRET	יחוואדפי	Poland
NATE OFFICERS' School in Oksylre THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION
Naval Officers' School in Oksyure 1. Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. Colors receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years therough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — eli phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artillery — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustka. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School are 1950 and about the same nucher is 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the surclassest at he school. This drive was limited, however, to the occasional in the Amy and hary. Classification Secret	ORIECI	POLISH MANAT DOMOGES
Naval Officers' School in Oksylre 1. Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksylre receive extensive technical and mechanical training. officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years through training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — ell phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artiliary — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustka. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same number in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the envoluent at the school. This drive was limited, however, to the personnel in the Army and Navy. Classification Secret	PLACE	JUSTED RELOW)	,
Naval Officers' School in Okayure 1. Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Okayure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. Officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artiliary — all phases. Navigation is not included in the superioulum. It was at one vime taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustra. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Okayure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and shout the same musher in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the envoluent at the school. This drive was limited, however, to the presonael in the Army and Navy. 3. Clast a Chryure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. 4. CLASSIFICATION SECRET		U se annu au differente
Naval Officers' School in Oksyure 1. Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. (a) Muring the first-year the student officers receive general military training political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artiliery — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one vime taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustra. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Navel Officers' School in 1950 and about the same number in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the excellment at this school. This drive was limited, however, to the Dersonnel in the Arry and Navy. 3. Claser as Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. CLASSIFICATION SECRET
Naval Officers' School in Oksylre 1. Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksylre receive extensive technical and mechanical training. Officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last there years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artiliery — all phases. Navigation is not included in the courriculum. It was at one vime taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustka. 2. Amprovimently 20 officers graduated from the Grayure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same murber in 1951. In 1951 there was a conserription drive to increase the aurolisant at the school. This drive was limited, however, to the personnel in the Arry and Navy. 3. Claser at Grayure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and mories. CLASSIFICATION SECRET	a fe of	Th
Naval Officers' School in Oksyure 1. Students attending the Maval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training: Officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artiliery — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustin. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Orsyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same mather in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the excellent at the school. This drive was limited, however, to the personnel in the Army and Navy. 3. Claser at Orsyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sparts, games and mories. CLASSIFICATION SECRET	1811 00 CURI
Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. Ouring the first-year the student officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artilitary — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one vine taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustra. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same muster in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the excollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, te the personnel in the Army and Navy. 3. Clase at Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. 4.	100 784. 37 Letter 37 1	THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION
Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. Ouring the first-year the student officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artilitary — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one vine taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustra. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same muster in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the excollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, te the personnel in the Army and Navy. 3. Clase at Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. 4.
Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. Ouring the first-year the student officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artilitary — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one vine taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustra. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same muster in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the excollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, te the personnel in the Army and Navy. 3. Clase at Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. 4.		·	, ,
Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. Ouring the first-year the student officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artilitary — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one vine taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustra. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same muster in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the excollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, te the personnel in the Army and Navy. 3. Clase at Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. 4.
Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. Ouring the first-year the student officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artilitary — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one vine taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustra. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same muster in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the excollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, te the personnel in the Army and Navy. 3. Clase at Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. 4.
Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. Ouring the first-year the student officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artilitary — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one vine taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustra. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same muster in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the excollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, te the personnel in the Army and Navy. 3. Clase at Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. 4.
Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. Ouring the first-year the student officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artilitary — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one vine taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustra. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same muster in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the excollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, te the personnel in the Army and Navy. 3. Clase at Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. 4.
Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. Ouring the first-year the student officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artilitary — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one vine taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustra. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same muster in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the excollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, te the personnel in the Army and Navy. 3. Clase at Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. 4.
Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. Ouring the first-year the student officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artilitary — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one vine taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustra. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same muster in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the excollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, te the personnel in the Army and Navy. 3. Clase at Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. 4.
Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. Ouring the first-year the student officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artiliery — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one vine taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustica. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same muster in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the excollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, te the personnel in the Army and Navy. 3. Claser at Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. CLASSIFICATION SECRET
Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. Ouring the first-year the student officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artiliery — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one vine taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustica. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same muster in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the excollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, te the personnel in the Army and Navy. 3. Claser at Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. CLASSIFICATION SECRET
Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. Comparison of the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training.
Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. Comparison of the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training.
Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. Comparison of the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training.
Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. Comparison of the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training.
during the first-year the student officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artillery — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustka. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers! School in 1950 and about the same musber in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the excolumnt at the school. This drive was limited, however, te the personnel in the Army and Navy. 3. Clas— at Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. 4. Classification Secret		N - 2 (244) - 1
during the first-year the student officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artillery — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustka. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers! School in 1950 and about the same musber in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the excolumnt at the school. This drive was limited, however, te the personnel in the Army and Navy. 3. Clas— at Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. 4. Classification Secret		Naval Officers' School in Oksyure
during the first-year the student officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artiliery — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustka. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same murber in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the excellment at the school. This drive was limited, however, te the personnel in the Army and Navy. 3. Claser at Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. 4. CLASSIFICATION SECRET		·	m1_
During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artilitary — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustka. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers! School in 1950 and about the same murber in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the enrollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, te the personnel in the Aray and Navy. 3. Clase — at Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. 4	ì.	Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive techn	mi-
(a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artilisty — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustra. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Chapure Navel Officers! School in 1950 and about the same mumber in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the exclamata at the school. This drive was limited, however, to the personnel in the Army and Navy. 3. Classification services. 4. CLASSIFICATION SECRET	ì.	Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. during the first-year the students during the first-year the students
(b) Signals various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artillery all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustra. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same number in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the earollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, te the personnel in the Army and Navy. 3. Classon at Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. 4	ì.	Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. during the first-year the stude officers receive general military training, political and military orientation.	ent
(c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artility — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustka. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same mucher in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the enrollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, to the personnel in the Army and Navy. 3. Claser at Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. 4. Classification Secret	Ĵ.	Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. during the first-year the stude officers receive general military training, political and military orientation.	ent
(d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artillery — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustra. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same musber in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the enrollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, te the personnel in the Army and Navy. 3. Classon as Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. 4. CLASSIFICATION SECRET	ìo	Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. during the first-year the stude officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects:	ent
Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustka. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same number in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the expollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, te the personnel in the Army and Navy. 3. Claser at Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. 4. CLASSIFICATION SECRET	ì.	Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. during the first-year the stude officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects (a) mechanics — motors and machines	ent
Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustka. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same murber in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the enrollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, to the personnel in the Army and Navy. 3. Classon as Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. 4. the instructors are Seviets who are fluent in the Polish language. CLASSIFICATION SECRET	ìo	Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. during the first-year the stude officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years therough training is given in the following subjects (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication	ent signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustka. 2. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers! School in 1950 and about the same number in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the enrollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, to the personnel in the Army and Navy. 3. Class at Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. 4. CLASSIFICATION SECRET	1.	Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. during the first-year the stude officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly	ent
1950 and about the same number in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the excollent at the school. This drive was limited, however, to the personnel in the Army and Navy. Classon as Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. 4. the instructors are Seviets who are fluent in the Polish language. CLASSIFICATION SECRET	1.	Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. during the first-year the stude officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years therough training is given in the following subjects (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) terpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines	ent
1950 and about the same number in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the excollent at the school. This drive was limited, however, to the personnel in the Army and Navy. Classon as Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. 4. the instructors are Seviets who are fluent in the Polish language. CLASSIFICATION SECRET	1.	Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. during the first-year the stude officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines: (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication: (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly: (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines: (e) artilitary — all phases. Newtration is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the	ent.
to increase the expoliment at the school. This drive was limited, however, to the personnel in the Army and Navy. Classon as Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. 4. the instructors are Seviets who are fluent in the Polish language. CLASSIFICATION SECRET		Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. during the first-year the stude officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines: (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication: (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly: (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines: (e) artiliery — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustra. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in	ent
Classification Secret		Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. during the first-year the stude officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines: (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication: (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly: (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines: (e) artilitary — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustka. Amproximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same marker in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive	ent
the instructors are Seviets who are fluent in the Polish language. CLASSIFICATION SECRET		Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. during the first-year the stude officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines: (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication: (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly: (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines: (e) artilitary — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustka. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same number in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the enrollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, te	ent
the instructors are Seviets who are fluent in the Polish language. CLASSIFICATION SECRET		Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. during the first-year the stude officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines: (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication: (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly: (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines: (e) artilitary — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustka. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same number in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the enrollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, te	ent
the instructors are Seviets who are fluent in the Polish language. CLASSIFICATION SECRET		Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. during the first-year the stude officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines: (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication: (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly: (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines: (e) artilitary — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustka. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same number in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the enrollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, te	ent
language. CLASSIFICATION SECRET	2.	Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. during the first-year the stude officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines: (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication: (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly: (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines: (e) artiliery — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustra. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same number in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the excellment at the school. This drive was limited, however, te	ent
language. CLASSIFICATION SECRET	2.	Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. during the first-year the stude officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artiliery — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustra. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same number in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the excellment at the school. This drive was limited, however, te the personnel in the Army and Navy. Classon at Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for	ent
language. CLASSIFICATION SECRET	2.	Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. during the first-year the stude officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artiliery — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustra. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same number in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the excellment at the school. This drive was limited, however, te the personnel in the Army and Navy. Classon at Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for	ent
CLASSIFICATION SECRET	2.	Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. during the first-year the stude officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artillery — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustra. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same number in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the earolisent at the school. This drive was limited, however, te the personnel in the Army and Navy. Classon as Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies.	ent
	2.	Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. during the first-year the stude officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artillary — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustka. Authorizately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same mumber in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the enrollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, to the personnel in the Army and Navy. Claser as Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies.	ent
	2.	Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. during the first-year the stude officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artillary — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustka. Authorizately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same mumber in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the enrollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, to the personnel in the Army and Navy. Claser as Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies.	ent
	2.	Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. during the first-year the stude officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artillary — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustka. Authorizately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same mumber in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the enrollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, to the personnel in the Army and Navy. Claser as Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies.	ent
STATE X DISTRIBUTION	2.	Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. during the first-year the stude officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects (a) mechanics — motors and machines (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines (e) artillary — all phases. Navigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustka. Authorizately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same mumber in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the enrollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, to the personnel in the Army and Navy. Claser as Oksyure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies.	ent
	2.	Students attending the Naval Officers' School in Oksyure receive extensive technical and mechanical training. during the first-year the stude officers receive general military training, political and military orientation. During the last three years thorough training is given in the following subjects: (a) mechanics — motors and machines: (b) Signals — various types of telecommunication: (c) torpedoes — all phases of assembly and disassembly: (d) mines — assembly and disassembly, including the laying of mines: (e) artillery — all phases. Newigation is not included in the curriculum. It was at one time taught with the signal course, but at the present time is taught separately at Ustka. Approximately 20 officers graduated from the Oksyure Naval Officers' School in 1950 and about the same number in 1951. In 1951 there was a conscription drive to increase the earollment at the school. This drive was limited, however, te the personnel in the Army and Navy. Classia at Chayure are held six days a week. The seventh day is set aside for sports, games and movies. the instructors are Seviets who are fluent in the Polish language.	ent

	SECRET	25X
	- 2 · · ·	;
	School for Non-Commissioned Officers in Oksyure
5.	Candidates for the Non-Commissioned Cfficers' School at Oksyure must emlist for 12 years' mayal duty. The courses last approximately two years and the students who complete their studies receive the rank of beatswain. The training is practically the same as for the officers, but not as thorough and with little or no concentration upon specialization.
6.	In 1950 approximately 80 boatswains graduated from the Oksyure Non-Commissioned Officers' School.	;
	Navigators' School in Szczecin
7.	the curriculum of this school commists of a three-year course for mavigator officers.	25X
8.	In 1950 approximately 14 officers graduated from this school.

_

-1--

25X1